Albert LOESCHHORN (1819-1905)
Study in C op 65 no 3

German pianist, pedagogue and composer Albert Loeschhorn wrote concert pieces for the piano as well as studies. This piece comes from a volume of 48 short studies. Playing tips: Try to keep the pulse moving, but never rush. Start off by playing it slowly, possibly with the help of a metronome, and then increase the speed with time. The fingers need a light touch and even touch. This is definitely a good exercise for even RH articulation. The LH is the accompaniment, so make sure that it supports the RH, with the first beat being the strongest. Take a look at the technical tips within the score.

Count in silently, a bar or two, before you begin. Allegretto  $\text{♩} = \text{c. } 144$

If you find the grace note tricky below, start off by practicing without it. Then add it only when notes are secure. The grace note should be very light and quickly move to the B, which is played on the beat. Lightness of touch is needed in the RH. Try to round off the four-quarter/crotchet pattern in each bar.

The key is the 'easy' C major. No sharps or flats. mf mp This needs to be quieter.

Aim for a legato even touch in the LH. No bumps allowed. The fingering will help.

7 Don't forget the staccato last note! Play the grace note lightly again. mf

The double barlines with the dots mean that you need to go back and repeat the first 8 bars. Crescendo gradually up to the beginning of bar 11, then decrescendo down again.

13 Bars 13-16 should be an echo of the previous four bars. The four-quarter/crotchet pattern now plays over 4 bars. Try to phrase each bar, but make the four bars a whole unit. mp

19 Lift the LH for the crotchet rests. Lift the hands off from the keys at the same time. mf Make a small decrescendo.

I'm using Composer's version 0.5.4 so I can only assume the command is: composer create-project zf/framework/zendframework-project zf2 I want to use composer to install it as the version of ZF I have does not come with Composer. I'm trying to avoid committing to installing it using its native PHP script, as I'm working on a team and don't want to have to update the script to the new version every time someone changes their local copy. So I'm trying to get Composer to migrate my local copy from ZF1 to ZF2. The problem is that my version of Composer doesn't seem to be detecting the project and the composer create-project command is giving me the following error. Sorry, but the command "zf create-project zf/framework/zendframework-project zf2" failed and exited with 2 during. I'm not really sure what I'm doing wrong. A: I found the issue. I was trying to use a local copy of ZF 1.10.8 as my Composer repository, when ZF 2.0.0 is clearly not. I also want to thank the people from ZF2 for their help, as they didn't give up too soon.
